“Great design is the intelligent integration of form, function, and technology, ultimately enhancing one’s lifestyle.” —Ariel Muller

ABOVE: A custom headboard wall features an upholstered leather design with a lit display niche exhibiting the clients glass sculpture collection. The surrounding figured Anigre wood panels, provide additional storage. The floating night tables have curved proud drawer panels finished in a satin lacquer to complement the room’s dresser. Stainless steel sconces serve as visual interest, as well as functional reading lights.

FACING PAGE: Designed in partnership with Cameo Kitchens, “Fusion — The Kitchen of Tomorrow” exhibits how technology and design work in perfect harmony. The backsplash is an interactive panel consisting of three HD monitors, which allow multi-functionality: enjoying a favourite scene, Skyping with family and friends, viewing cooking videos or recipes, browsing websites and social media, displaying children’s artwork, or presenting a slideshow of family photos. If sports are the preference, watching three events simultaneously is simple. The raised breakfast bar is made of semi-precious stone, which is backlit with LED panels to complement the luxe high-gloss walnut and white lacquer cabinetry. Interior illumination is activated at a touch of the automated servo drive doors and drawers. The kitchen design won a Luxury Portfolio, “Best of the Best” Award from Robb Report.

PREVIOUS PAGES LEFT: Located in the heart of Toronto, the modern condo features a grey and white color palette with polished metal focal elements that add reflection and create a “wow” factor. The open concept living and dining space is warmed by a custom silk and wool area carpet. The white leather sofa curves to enhance the aesthetic and improve sightlines to the flat screen TV and honed stone fireplace, with a custom inset stainless frame. The S-fold sheers enhance the windows, and motorized blinds behind them provide additional privacy.

PREVIOUS PAGES RIGHT: A spectacular Terzani chandelier made of refined stainless steel chain is the focal point of this striking dining room. Its design is balanced by a custom walnut elliptical tabletop with a polished stainless inlaid seam and stunning base. The sculptural effect is framed by custom walnut buffets with polished stainless tops and side waterfall wrap detail.

ABOVE: Ariel Muller Designs was commissioned to design a vacation condo overlooking the ocean. The open kitchen incorporates white lacquer and walnut cabinetry with stainless steel appliances. A mirrored backsplash enlarges the space visually, as it reflects the blue accents and the water beyond.

LEFT: A topographical coffee table made in the United Kingdom topped with a water-like façade accents the white plank floors, paying homage to the white beaches just outside the condo. LED indirect lighting in perimeter walls and ceiling coves adds the perfect ambience for lounging or entertaining.

FACING PAGE: The open concept master ensuite exposes a generous glassed-in shower with dramatic mosaic tile flowing from wall to floor. A freestanding oval tub softens the space as it nestles close to the feature mosaic wall with unique tub filler. The result is a modern, luxurious retreat.

TOP: A wool and silk custom carpet grounds the master suite, while the bespoke walnut bedroom furniture features inlaid detail. The polished nickel chandelier brings the space together in a cohesive statement.

ABOVE: The solid walnut staircase rises up from the elegant, herringbone patterned hardwood floors and pairs beautifully with the figured walnut back-paneled wall. The custom railing serves as an exclamation point to the rich design.

TOP: A suspended custom chandelier created from cast glass and metal brings intimacy to this vaulted family room. A large comfy sectional sofa frames the space and is positioned to enjoy the stunning views as the seasons change.

MIDDLE & BOTTOM: The sitting room off of the master suite offers a comfortable area for unwinding. Custom walnut cabinets include a make-up vanity and pullout posts and drawers, expediting morning rituals. Recessed lighting and elegant sconces add a gentle glow that furthers the calming atmosphere.

FACING PAGE: This grand living room features a panoramic window framed by the architectural barrel-vaulted ceiling. Recessed lighting provides a constellation effect to the ceiling, while a marble wall provides a clean backdrop for the fireplace. A custom sofa cabinet with laser cut detailing accentuates the curves of the room, creating a breathtaking space laced with tranquility.
